- The diverting works of the famous Michael de Cervantes. ... Now first translated from the Spanish. With an introduction by the author of the London-Spy [E. Ward; or, rather, translated by him from the "Para todos" of J. Perez de Montalban]. London, 1709. 8º. A fabrication by Ward. 12490. e. 8.
- The troublesome and hard adventures in love. Lively setting forth, the feavers, the dangers, and the jealousies of lovers ... Written in Spanish, by that excellent and famous gentleman Michael Cervantes; and exactly translated into English by R. C[odrington] Gent. 13. 1. B. Alsop: London, 1652. 4º. E. 647. (1.)
This work was not written by Cervantes. In the Epistle dedicatory it is attributed to the author of Guzman d'Alfarache and of the 2nd part of Don Quixote, but those works are not the productions of the same writer.
